

SAVE THE ANIMALS In Thailand!

Wild Life and Sea Life Projects!

Teach-to-Travel needs you to save the animals!

Pick an animal, any animal. Really!

Save the elephants, tigers and other mammals in the jungle.

Save the sea turtles and giant clams by the sea.

Or save both with the surf and turf option!

Seriously, Teach-to-Travel really does have opportunities for you to help protect animals and sea life in Thailand.

We have partnered with Thai organizations throughout Thailand that need your help in their ongoing efforts to improve the lives and habits of special creatures.

*A certificate will be provided at the end of the program.

Save the animals in Thailand

Thai Elephant Village

Get involved

Ever been camping? With elephants? Now is your chance. Live with the mahout, Thai elephant trainers, and learn how to care for and control some of the largest mammals on the earth. Ride them, bathe them and help them have a better tomorrow—and have one of the best and most memorable trips of anyone you know (you also get to go rafting and kayaking!).

Coast Fishery Center

Get involved

This volunteer position is for certified divers only, because the Coast Fishery Center is your chance to work IN the sea. That's right. You can relax in the beach after work, but during the day you get to work with giant clams in the sea. Oh, and see the real Thailand by staying as a guest in the home of a Fishery Center administrator.

Sea Turtle Protection Center

Get involved

Do you prefer to volunteer on a tropical island? Then why don't you help sea turtles in Thailand? Live in a Thai Fishing village on the mainland as a guest of a Protection Center administrator, and boat to work every day to the island conservatory. It's a hard life, but somebody has to do it, so it might as well be you!
